

DYING IN AMERICA CRISIS AND OPPORTUNITY

Ira Byock, MD

Dr. Ira Byock, Director of Palliative Medicine at DHMC and DMS, will deliver the Harry and Carolyn Bird Lecture in Healthcare Policy, “Dying in America: Crisis and Opportunity.” Dr. Byock is a nationally and internationally known authority in Palliative Medicine, and heads The Robert Wood Johnson’s Promoting Excellence in End-of-Life Care project. He is the author of several books, the most recent titled, “The Four Things that Matter Most: A Book About Living,” to be released on the day of the lecture.

Place: Dartmouth-Hitchcock Medical Center, Auditoria E & F

Date: Monday, March 8

Time: 5PM (a reception will follow the lecture in the foyer of Auditoria E/F)

For more information, contact Lisa Wirth at (603)650-6177.

Free and open to the public.

DARTMOUTH-HITCHCOCK MEDICAL CENTER

One Medical Center Drive • Lebanon, NH 03756 • www.dhmc.org