FEATURED STORIES

Geisel School of Medicine's Landino Lab Receives Paper of the Year Award

The American Society for Cell Biology and its research journal, Molecular Biology of the Cell, Paper of the Year Award recognizes the outstanding scientific achievements of early career researchers. For their exceptional contributions to the field of cell biology, this year's MBoC Paper of the Year Award went to Geisel School of Medicine researchers Gregory J. Schwarz and Jennifer Landino for their paper "Membrane composition-dependent patterning of Rho and F-actin in an artificial cell cortex".

Do You Want Your Research to Have a Sustained Impact?

Join us for a virtual presentation on September 16th, 12:00 -1:00 PM, to learn about available trainings and workshops that build foundational implementation science (IS) skills and how to get the most out of what the Dartmouth Center for Implementation Science Implementation Research Core has to offer to support investigators in using IS to maximize their research impact!
